ECLIPSE 2017

The solar eclipse will be visible in many parts of the United States on August 21st, 2017. The last solar eclipse to cover the U.S. was back in 1918!

A total solar eclipse happens when the Moon is put perfectly between Earth and the sun. Partial solar eclipses happen when the moon only covers some of the sun.

The eclipse will only exist within a hundred miles. People in this area will experience complete darkness for two minutes.

Idaho is one of the best places in the United States to view the eclipse. Scientists from all over the world are coming to observe this special phenomenon.

To celebrate the solar eclipse, we will be having activities throughout the week.

August 17th at 1:30: Learn about the Eclipse/Crafts

August 18th at 10:30: Fun with Food – Galaxy Popcorn

August 21st – Let's watch the Eclipse (with Planet Punch)
