Resident Spotlight

The young man in this month's spotlight in none other than the Mayor of New Meadow, Idaho

He was born in New Plymouth Idaho, and grew up in New Meadows Idaho where his father word a mechanic on logging equipment.

He graduated from High School in 1957. He said "I was too poor to Leave town" so he stayed and worked as a logger. Over time he worked his way into management.

He married a childhood friend in 1965 and they had two daughters whom he loved and adored.

The Mayor loved to fish and would build his own fishing rods. He also enjoyed playing golf. He is a veteran of the Army and loves to visit about basketball his girls. The last car he purchased was a 2015 Silver Chevy Camaro.

He served three terms as Mayor of New Meadows and lost his fourth term by a flip of a coin. That's right, the vote was tied and by Idaho law the coin toss declared the winner.

We love our Housekeepers.

What would this place be like without our cleaning girls?

Their always smiling, pay great attention to details and love working with all of you. So next time you see MaryLu, Tomasa, Maria and Griselda give them a big GRACIAS

The Power of Names

The power of bestowing names is so great that in the Old Testament of the Bible it is God who grants this amazing gift to Adam and Eve. Modern psychologists agree that names are significant. As children develop the ability to speak, they name things to make sense of the world around them. The first full week of March is Celebrate Your Name Week, a time to appreciate our names. In 1948, professors at Harvard University studied the success of recent Harvard graduates. As it turned out, those with common names like Mike had found more success than those with unusual names such as Berrien.

The professors concluded that rare or unusual names had negative psychological effects.

More studies followed, and they bore out similar results. Names seemingly influence where we go to school, where we choose to live, who we marry, and even the kind of financial investments we make. Psychologists have attempted to explain this phenomenon as a result of the “implicit-egoism” effect, or the fact that we are drawn to things that resemble us. Other psychologists offer a different explanation. Names send powerful signals about where we come from: our native country, economic back-ground, ethnicity and religion. When we hear a name, we hear so much more. Of course, not everyone loves their given name. According to Legal Zoom, people often change their name if it’s very common. They list Britney and Ashley as two examples. Another reason people change their name is because it’s difficult to spell or pronounce. Celebrate Your Name Week is a chance to be proud of not just our names but of who we are. When you introduce yourself, say your name loud and proud, for the way you treat your name shows the way that you want to be treated.
